JKOMSF President*

Dr. Wes Emison encouraging the LSU OMS Residents the benefits of joining The Jack Kent OMS Foundation at the OMS Residents' Graduation Dinner.

Message from the President

Welcome to the Jack Kent Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery Foundation's Summer Newsletter. One might say it has been summer in full swing and it has been downright "Blessed Hot" which also reflects the pace of activities surrounding the Foundation, Department, and Residency Training Program. I must report that, despite considerable work on the part of Denise DeLany, Director of Grants for the LSU Health Foundation New Orleans, Dr. Jack Kent, Dr. Eric Geist, and myself, our Endowed Chair application for the 2022-2023 fiscal year cycle was not funded by the LSU Board of Regents. The application scored well but came up just a bit short of the six applications that were funded. We will regroup soon and begin the process of reapplying with a strengthened proposal.

The Board learned at our meeting during Pearls X, that the financial status of the Foundation remains strong, with Dr. Tony Indovina taking charge as our new Treasurer. Many thanks to Dr. Eric Geist for keeping the books in order since the inception of the Foundation.

Pearls X was an educational success with excellent lectures by Drs. Deepak Krishnan, Back Le, Fred Lopez, and our own LSU OMS, Drs. Mike Block, Brian Christensen, and Hisham Hatoum. In terms of attendance and finances, lessons were learned relative to scheduling with competition from the Southeastern Society of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons, the American Academy of Craniomaxillofacial Surgeons, and Spring Break. A careful review of scheduling and the Pearls course format will be undertaken.

Continued

This academic year saw unprecedented support of our LSU OMS residents by JKOMSF precipitated by financial needs brought to our attention by Dr. Park as Interim Department Chair, focusing on the lack of a stipend while in medical school at the second-year level. Residents at every level received support from JKOMSF this past academic year with case-by-case documentation of the need for a total of nearly $50,000 from the Foundation. The Board voted to conditionally continue this level of support for the residents for another year and then reassess the program.

The LSU OMS Department has been undergoing significant changes, with Drs. John Kent, III and Peter Park sharing the Interim Head position at LSUSD and UMCNO, respectively. Thanks to these two gentlemen for stepping up to the plate in a time of need. We, unfortunately, lost Dr. Christensen as his family moved on to allow his wife's fellowship training, leaving a considerable void in our program. As well, The Big Man, Dr. Dale Misiek will be moving on to Tennessee leaving us after so many years and so much dedication to the Residency Training Program. Big shoes to fill, indeed!

Rumor on the street is that Dr. Mark Welch is stepping back from his highly esteemed teaching position, but group denial by the residents may keep him on board with us a bit longer!

Rigo, Grace, Stephanie, Christian and Emma

Rigoberto Cornejo, DMD, MD '2000

My dental journey began in San Vicente, El Salvador, where my parents, both dentists, were completing their compulsory dental service internship. I joined them not long after their wedding. However, due to the civil war and the threat of a communist revolution, my family decided to immigrate to the United States in 1980. Life in the US demanded hard work and sacrifice as my parents had to adapt to a new culture, learn the language, get accepted into dental school programs, and pass the dental boards. Despite the challenges, my love for education and passion for sports played crucial roles in shaping my path. Eventually, I realized my dream of becoming a dentist and pursued a fulfilling career in oral surgery.

During my dental school journey, I had the privilege of interviewing with Dr. Norm Betz and Dean Dr. Ray Fonseca, who became my mentors. They guided me through my studies and provided valuable research opportunities, recognizing my determination to become an Oral Maxillofacial Surgeon from the start. In my junior year, Dr. Fonseca suggested an externship that led me to LSU (Louisiana State University), a perfect fit for my aspirations.

After my honeymoon, I arrived in New Orleans to embark on an unforgettable experience filled with surgeries, learning, and camaraderie. The culture at LSU, which emphasized hard work, intelligence, and fun, shaped my residency years, making it my top choice for the program.

Throughout my time at LSU, I had the privilege of learning from extraordinary individuals who left a lasting impact on my career. Drs. Kent, Block, Misiek, Akin, Wood, O'Brien, Stover, Tucker, Teenier, Indovina, Spagnoli, and others provided invaluable lessons that I carry with me daily. The fellow residents also made my 6 years at LSU enjoyable and exciting. Their mentorship and friendship helped shape both my professional and personal growth.

Upon completing my residency, I entered private practice in Winter Haven, Florida, where I developed a successful career and became an active member of the community. My supportive wife, Stephanie, and our three wonderful children, Christian, Emma, and Grace are the center of my world, and I strive to instill the values I learned during my journey in them.

My dental journey from El Salvador to LSU and beyond has been filled with challenges, unwavering support, and invaluable lessons. The guidance of my mentors at LSU, the camaraderie with my fellow residents, and the wisdom of experienced Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons have all contributed significantly to my growth and success. I am profoundly grateful for the gift of this profession and the profound impact it allows me to make in the lives of others. As I continue my career, I carry with me the valuable advice and lessons imparted by those who have shaped my path.

Rigo, we are all proud of the successes of you and your family from El Salvador through LSU OMS to Winter Haven. We thank you for being Vice President of JKOMSf. We look forward to seeing you and Stephanie in New Orleans when coming to visit your daughter Grace at Tulane U. Best of luck to daughter Emma with the dental school application. Jack

Biography

Dr. James was born and raised in the quaint West Texas town of Plainview, where his journey began. He graduated from Texas A&M University with a degree in Chemistry and a minor in Mathematics. His academic pursuits led him to attain a Doctorate in Dental Surgery (DDS) from the University of Texas Dental Branch. Simultaneously, he delved into the realm of Physics, pursuing a Master's degree at the University of Houston.

Midway through his Physics journey, Dr. James was accepted into the Louisiana State University (LSU) Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery program in New Orleans. He matriculated into the LSU Medical School, earning a Doctor of Medicine (MD) degree. While at LSU, he earned a Certificate in General Surgery for completing an internship and completed the six-year residency in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery culminating in a Certificate in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery.

Dr. James continued his education at the University of Oklahoma under the mentorship of Dr. Kevin Smith where he completed a fellowship and obtained a Certificate in Cleft and Craniofacial Surgery. He also trained at the Arnold Palmer Children's Hospital in Orlando under Dr. Ramon Ruiz to expand his expertise to include cranial vault and front-orbital reconstruction for craniofacial dysmorphologies. Dr. James also trained under Dr Erik Nuveen at Cosmetic Surgery Affiliates furthering his competency as a facial cosmetic surgeon. Most recently, Dr. James graduated top of his class at the Hull College of Business and earned a Master in Business Administration (MBA).

In the professional arena, Dr. James embarked on his journey as an associate at Oral Surgery Services in New Orleans, guided by the expertise of Drs. Demarcus Smith, Pete Walters, and Mike Ferguson. This chapter saw him not only practicing Facial Cosmetic Surgery, Cleft and Craniofacial Surgery, and Oral Surgery but also holding academic appointments as a Clinical Assistant Professor at LSU's Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery department and a Clinical Instructor at Tulane University's Otolaryngology Department.

A new chapter unfolded as Dr. James dedicated his efforts to academic dentistry and medicine. He was recruited to spearhead the Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery residency program at the Medical and Dental College of Georgia. His multifaceted role included being an Associate Professor in the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at the Dental College of Georgia (DCG) and General Surgery at the Medical College of Georgia. His responsibilities extended to various leadership roles, including overseeing Advanced Education in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, directing Undergraduate Studies in the field, managing the Cleft and Craniofacial Clinic at DCG, and serving as Assistant Medical Director of the Augusta University Ambulatory Surgery Center. His journey within the academic domain culminated in him being appointed as Interim Chairman and Department Head within the Georgia University system.

Evidencing his commitment to his craft, Dr. James achieved dual board certification in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery and Facial Cosmetic Surgery. He remains actively involved in the American Board of Facial Cosmetic Surgery as a Board Examiner. He's a distinguished Fellow of The American Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons, The American College of Surgeons, and the American Academy of Cosmetic Surgeons. His affiliations span across prominent medical and dental associations, including the American Cleft Palate – Craniofacial Association, American Academy of Cosmetic Surgeons, American College of Surgeons, American Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons, American Medical Association, and the American Dental Association. Dr. James proudly served his country for a decade in the United States Air Force Reserves as a staff surgeon for the Air Force and Army Maxillofacial Surgery Training Program.

Outside of work, Dr. James has become fond of traveling and camping with his wife, Aimee, and twin children all over the country in an RV. As a requisite, his second favorite hobby is repairing the RV. Dr. James also enjoys hunting, fishing, and being outdoors when time allows.

Welcome Home Jeff. Your coming represents a resurgence of excellence for LSU OMS. Your Clinical and Educational success over the past few years is remarkable. It has been 50 years since our LSU OMS Chair has had experience in both Undergraduate and Postgraduate teaching experiences. Our faculty and alumni are all at your disposal. Congratulations. Jack

The Department is currently acquiring the services of Frank Harman, DDS at the school and Wes Emison, DDS, MD at UMC Hospital

Dr. Mark Welch will be retiring (again).

REMEMBRANCE

Joseph John Dusek DDS

JULY 29, 1949 - JUNE 7, 2023

Joseph "Joe" John Dusek, age 73, of Houston, Texas passed away peacefully on Wednesday, June 7, 2023, surrounded by family. Born in Austin, Texas, he was the son of Joseph and Agnes Dusek. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1971, where he met his future wife, Kay Knigge. Joe and Kay were married in 1972 and would later have three children: Dustin, Colin, and Darcie. Joe would go on to graduate from the University of Texas Dental Branch at Houston in 1975 and complete his oral surgery training at Louisiana State University in New Orleans in 1978. He then joined Oral Surgery Associates in Webster, Texas, where he enjoyed a successful career until his retirement in 2016. Following his retirement, Joe continued to work as a volunteer for the San Jose Clinic in Houston.

Joe was a family man, Christian, doctor, gardener, automobile and motorcycle enthusiast, philanthropist, and traveler, among many other things. He had a strong moral compass and an abundance of love, and that is what we who know him will miss the most. This love, grounded in faith, family, and friends, helped Joe make decisions and act in a way that benefited others and strengthened the community around him. In a world that is too callous, too selfish, and too busy, Joe gave his time, talent, and treasure to whoever needed it most and shared his humor and joy with loved ones. He is dearly missed, and we who knew him hope to honor his life and memory by acting with the same love, compassion, and devotion that he showed to all of us.

Joe is survived by his wife Kay, sister and husband Ann and Richard Belgrado; two sons and their wives Dustin and Ashley Dusek, and Colin and Stephanie Nelson-Dusek; daughter and husband Darcie and Chris Lesinski; and five grandchildren, Lucas and Blake Dusek, Thea and Lizzie Nelson-Dusek, and Lucy Lesinski.

Those wishing to make donations in Joe's memory are asked to send their donations to MD Anderson Cancer Center or San Jose Clinic.

Joe Dusek, DDS was a number one graduate from the University of Texas Dental School. We knew each other at U T as he was a freshman, and I was in my last year as a teacher of OMS. I was so pleased to see Joe as an applicant to LSU OMS in 1974. That class of five graduating from LSU OMS in 1978 - Joe Dusek, Grady Hornsby, Bruce Lowe, Harry Morris, and Raph Ryser were outstanding. Joe and I often talked about the advancements of OMS and how we could contribute. Joe did everything in OMS as a practitioner and educator. I was so proud to know Joe and wife Kay all these years. OMS News Bits (cont.)Karl E. Lind - Graduate of LSU OMS Residency 1974

Retired from practice in Salt Lake City, Utah and Elko, Nevada December 2015. I proudly claim to be the oldest resident Dr. Jack Kent trained at LSU, one year older than the chief himself. I continue to claim that honor until unseated by an older challenger which has yet to come forth. While only at LSU for my fourth year as a senior resident, I continue to proudly claim the glory of being an LSU alum. Dr. Kent was one of the finest surgeons with whom I had the privilege of training. I had previously been with outstanding practitioners at UCSF San Francisco General, UCLA Harbor General, and the University of Utah School of Medicine. The national reputation of the LSU program commenced with Jack's arrival in the summer of 1973 and continued to build to its top ranking in the 1980's & 90's. Jack was a gifted teacher and quickly became a person of great influence in the medical community. I attribute the success of my personal career to the excellent training and brotherhood felt in the Jack Kent era.

Update on JKOMSF's financial growth

This will be my last official report as your Secretary/Treasurer as Tony Indovina is your new Secretary/Treasurer. It has been an honor to have served in this capacity since the inception of our foundation. It was also extremely gratifying to witness first-hand the generosity and commitment of our alumni. We set a high bar in terms of anticipated donations, and frankly, I was skeptical at first, having been involved in fundraising on many different levels over my career. That skepticism has been completely dispelled as we not only met our goal, we exceeded the goal and have established JKOMSF as a strong and purposeful entity that is highly regarded throughout the entire Medical Center. I am confident that within a year or so we will receive matching funds for a second Endowed Chair in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, this one in the name of Dr. Kent and this Foundation. Our specialty and our training program continue to face significant challenges on multiple fronts, yet we have remained resilient through savvy political action, innovation, well-trained and competent surgeons, and excellent residents that become excellent surgeons and good citizens.

I am thankful and consider myself very fortunate to have trained alongside outstanding residents and faculty at LSU. The continued growth of the JKOMSF will undoubtedly contribute greatly to our present and future residents enjoying similar success.

Best Regards,

Eric T Geist DDS FACS
